PLNU Mission Statement

Point Loma Nazarene University exists to provide higher education in a vital Christian community where minds are engaged and challenged, character is modeled and formed, and service becomes an expression of faith. Being of Wesleyan heritage, we aspire to be a learning community where grace is foundational, truth is pursued, and holiness is a way of life.

General Education Mission Statement

PLNU provides a foundational course of study in the liberal arts informed by the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ. In keeping with the Wesleyan tradition, the curriculum equips students with a broad range of knowledge and skills within and across disciplines to enrich major study, lifelong learning, and vocational service as Christ-like participants in the world's diverse societies and cultures.

Catalog Description

The literature of the New Testament considered in the context of the beginnings of the Christian community as to it origin, structure, content, and witness to faith.

Purpose of the Course

The person and work of Jesus Christ formed the center of early Christian preaching. Moreover, Jesus provided the pattern for the church and for discipleship. Apart from Christ neither the Christian church nor the New Testament documents would exist. Therefore, the purpose of this course is to study the New Testament documents from the perspective of what they reveal about Jesus Christ. The focus of this class is broader than the traditional study of the historical Jesus [the focus of which is to create a historical reconstruction of his life]. Our quest is to discover what the New Testament teaches about his person and work so that we might be able to grasp his significance for us today. To do this we will learn to think Christologically by reflecting on both the life of Jesus and his words as they are disclosed in the New Testament documents.

Incompletes and Late Assignments:

All assignments are to be submitted/turned in by the beginning of the class session when they are due – including assignments posted in Canvas. Incompletes will only be assigned in extremely unusual circumstances.

Final Examination Policy:

Successful completion of this class requires taking the final examination on its scheduled day. The final examination schedule is posted on the Class Schedules site. No request for early examinations or alternative days will be approved.

PLNU Copyright Policy:

Point Loma Nazarene University, as a non-profit educational institution, is entitled by law to use materials protected by the US Copyright Act for classroom education. Any use of those materials outside the class may violate the law.

PLNU Academic Honesty Policy:

Students should demonstrate academic honesty by doing original work and by giving appropriate credit to the ideas of others. Academic *dis*honesty is the act of presenting information, ideas, and/or concepts as one's own when in reality they are the results of another person's creativity and effort. A faculty member who believes a situation involving academic dishonesty has been detected may assign a failing grade for that assignment or examination, or, depending on the seriousness of the offense, for the course. Faculty should follow and students may appeal using the procedure in the university Catalog. See Academic Policies for definitions of kinds of academic dishonesty and for further policy information.

PLNU Academic Accommodations Policy:

If you have a diagnosed disability, please contact PLNU's Disability Resource Center (DRC) within the first two weeks of class to demonstrate need and to register for accommodation by phone at 619-849-2486 or by e-mail at DRC@pointloma.edu. See Disability Resource Center for additional information.

Inclusive Language Statement:

The School of Theology and Christian Ministry (STCM) is committed to the equality of women and men. Recognizing that people have often used the English language in ways that imply the exclusion of inferiority of women, the STCM urges students, faculty and staff to avoid sexist language in public discourse, in classroom discussions, and in their writing.

Paul's Letter to the Churches in Galatia

Throughout the semester, we will carry out a detailed study of Paul's Letter to the Churches in Galatia. We will do our study of Galatians as we examine the other twenty-six books of the New Testament. Each class session, expect the two exam sessions, will be structured as follows:

1. We will spend the first 45 minutes engaged in the study of the New Testament as a whole.

2. After a five-minute break, we will spend the final 25 minutes of the class studying Galatians.

3. It will be necessary for each class member to complete the readings for each class session. I suggest the following pattern for your reading:

- Keep up your reading of Powell (INT). This will alert you to the vocabulary that has arisen in the study of the New Testament documents.
- Reading the commentary on Galatians (Keener, GC) will acquaint you with the specific issues of each of the five charters in the letter.

 Read Galatians through each week. I would suggest that you read a chapter from Galatians each day following this pattern – Monday, chapter 1; Tuesday, chapter 2; Wednesday, chapter 3; Thursday, chapter 4; Friday, chapter 5; Saturday, chapter 6.

4. Each week you will be given a brief writing assignment that will allow you to think about a specific issue in your reading of Galatians. Each assignment will be graded, and your professor will be looking for a thoughtful response to the assignment. We will also have the opportunity to see how the message of Galatians fits into the New Testament as a whole.
