

Nurse Networking Day

The PLNU School of Nursing and the PLNU Office of Strengths and Vocation have partnered together for the past couple of years to offer networking sessions between nursing leaders from the community and senior nursing students. Nursing leaders represent local hospitals, clinics, and other health organizations in the community. They are invited to hear presentations of student portfolios, followed by a networking reception. This event is a culmination of the undergraduate nursing school experience for students at PLNU, offering them a chance to engage with nursing leaders and create potential connections for employment following graduation.
