Childhood Development – Adult Degree Completion (ADC) Critical Thinking GELO 1.d & Core Competency Assessment 2018-2019

Learning Outcome:

Critical Thinking: Students will be able to examine, critique and synthesize information in order to arrive at reasoned conclusions.

Outcome Measure:

ETS Proficiency Profile Exam

Criteria for Success (how do you judge if the students have met your standards):

70% of the students will be marginal or proficient at Level 2 Reading/Critical Thinking.

Aligned with DQP Learning Areas (circle one or more but not all five):

- 1. Specialized Knowledge
- 2. Broad Integrative Knowledge
- 3. Intellectual Skills/Core Competencies
- 4. Applied and Collaborative Learning, and
- 5. Civic and Global Learning

Conclusions Drawn from Data:

The criteria of 70% was not met. It is important to note that this year ETS Proficiency Profile Exam was administered online and there were multiple access issues within the cohorts. A significant decline from 2017-18 was exhibited. Students in the CDV program are primarily assessed through writing, projects, and presentations and are not assessed through exams or tests in their courses.

Changes to be Made Based on Data:

It is the hope of this program that the online component of the ETS Proficiency Profile will be revisited to establish a more accurate outcome. The program will continue to incorporate current research based journal articles in all courses. The objective is to scaffold students' ability to examine, critique, and synthesize content specific information. We will also return to using the paper version of the exam in place of the online version to reduce frustration and stress for students taking this exam.

Rubric Used: No rubric. We use the ETS Proficiency Profile test results.

Childhood Development – Adult Degree Completion (ADC) Written Communication GELO 1.a & Competency Assessment 2018-2019

Learning Outcome:

Written: Students will be able to effectively express ideas and information to others through written communication.

Outcome Measure:

ETS Proficiency Profile Exam

Criteria for Success (how do you judge if the students have met your standards):

75% of the students will be marginal or proficient at Level 2 Writing.

Conclusions Drawn from Data:

The criteria of 75% was not met. It is important to note that this year ETS Proficiency Profile Exam was administered online and there were multiple access issues within the cohorts. A slight increase from 2017-18 was exhibited. Students in the CDV program are primarily assessed through writing, projects, and presentations and are not assessed through exams or tests in their courses. Many of the ADC students are also English as a second language learners. The ETS Proficiency Profile focuses on grammar and identifying inaccuracies in written work.

Changes to be Made Based on Data:

It is the hope of this program that the online component of the ETS Proficiency Profile will be revisited to establish a more accurate outcome. The writing is a high priority in the degree completion Child Development program. The students are coming in at a lower level of writing ability than our traditional students. Changes are being made throughout the program to increase the level of writing of our students. This is being done by the following changes: A writing course has being added to the program to help improve competencies in written word. Additional writing support will be encouraged by faculty for those students scoring low on writing competencies. Referrals will be made to the GPS Writing Center as well as the Brainfuse tool on Canvas. Special training will be made available to faculty on meeting the needs of English as a second language learners. We will also return to using the paper version of the exam in place of the online version to reduce frustration and stress for students taking this exam.

Conclusions Drawn from Data:

The criteria of 70% was not met. It is important to note that this year ETS Proficiency Profile Exam was administered online and there were multiple access issues within the cohorts. A slight increase from 2017-18 was exhibited. Students in the CDV program are primarily assessed through writing, projects, and presentations and are not assessed through exams or tests in their courses. It is unclear the timeline for students having completed a math course in which quantitative reasoning would have been assessed. A new assessment tool was implemented in the Child and Nutrition course.

Changes to be Made Based on Data:

It is the hope of this program that the online component of the ETS Proficiency Profile will be revisited to establish a more accurate outcome. An increased focus on quantitative reasoning will be highlighted throughout the program when appropriate with an emphasis in the Child and Nutrition course. Additional review of the Child and Nutrition course will be done to identify opportunities for increasing quantitative reasoning skills.

Childhood Development – Adult Degree Completion (ADC) Information Literacy GELO 1.c & Core Competency Assessment 2018-2019

Learning Outcome:

Students will be able to identify, locate, evaluate and effectively and responsibly use and cite information for the task at hand (Informational Literacy)

Outcome Measure:

CDV355: Research Paper: A question formulated to address an issue that affects children or families of children with special needs. Students will research and find a minimum of five peer reviewed articles published in the last three years (books can be used as well), then summarize findings and address the question asked – supporting findings with evidence from articles. Students will complete an annotated bibliography of all research materials found.

Criteria for Success (if applicable):

80% of students will score a three or higher on each criteria of the four-point AAC&U Information Literacy Value Rubric

Aligned with DQP Learning Areas (circle one or more but not all five):

Conclusions Drawn from Data:

Overall, the criteria 80% was not achieved for this learning outcome. 78% was achieved for determining the extent of information, 77% was achieved for accessing needed information, 78% was achieved for evaluating information/sources, 72% was achieved for effective use of information, and 58% was achieved for access and use of information.

Students were provided exemplar examples of assignments, faculty was scaffolded on alignment of rubrics. Although a writing course was added to the program in term one, students for this assessment period had not yet benefited from that course. The writing workshop that was offered by the librarian or CEL Director of Writing was not conducted for this group of students.

A writing course was added to the program in Fall 2018 to help improve competencies in written word and research. Results from this course should be evident in the 2019-2020 assessment.

The signature assignment was assessed by the Program Director and the Department Chair.

Changes to be Made Based on Data:

Assignment grading rubric and prompt for students will be evaluated to clearly communicate goals of the assignment and ensure alignment with PLO3 and depth of analyzing scientific research and understanding of philosophical views of growth and development. Exemplar examples of assignment will be added into the assignment prompt and faculty resources. A research workshop, provided by the CEL Director of Writing, will be scheduled for the beginning of the course to support the knowledge gained in the writing course from the first term and ensure mastery of research and writing practices.

Professors will be scaffolded in alignment of rubrics and understanding of how this assignment is evaluated against PLO3. The focus will be depth of research and understanding of different philosophical viewpoints of growth and development, clarity of assignment goals and consistent alignment of rubrics throughout the cohorts. This will be done through faculty training and the student research workshop.

While an overall improvement was shown, the current rubric should be evaluated for clear alignment to the PLO for this assignment.

Conclusions Drawn from Data:

Overall, the criteria of 80% or higher was met and exceeded with an overall 98%. 99% was achieved for organization, 100% was achieved for language, 95% was achieved for delivery, 98% was achieved for supporting material, and 98% was achieved for central message.

This outcome was assessed by five faculty members in Summer 2018, seven faculty members in Fall 2018, and five faculty members in Spring 2019. Scores were averaged. The Department Chair was included in this assessment for Summer 2018 and Fall 2018.

Changes to be Made Based on Data:

All cohorts present together on the main campus, dressed in professional attire at the conclusion of their program. They present in front of an audience of faculty, administration, and their peers. Each student is given four minutes to present professional philosophy, code of ethics, and work samples from their ePortfolio.

The oral communication rubric will be added to the presentation assignment on Canvas so that students know how their presentations will be scored by faculty. Students will be encouraged to orally practice in front of friends and family before giving their formal presentation on main campus. A workshop will be offered during the last seven weeks of the course to allow students the opportunity to practice their presentations.

Conclusions Drawn from Data:

Overall, the criteria of 80% or higher for success was met throughout the cohorts. 80% was achieved for context and purpose, 82% was achieved for content development, and 88% was achieved for control of syntax and mechanics.

The overall percentage increased 18% from 2017-2018. Student population continues to be a large percentage of English as a second language learners in the makeup of each cohort. All but one of these courses were taught by the program director and mandatory student consultations were required for support and scaffolding of this assignment and writing expectations. Additional referrals for writing support was made to the CEL writing center and Brainfuse.

The signature assignment was assessed by the Program Director and the Department Chair.

Changes to be Made Based on Data:

A writing course has been added to the program to help improve competencies in written word and results from students taking this course will be evaluated starting with the Summer 2019 cohorts. The Program Director will continue to work as the primary faculty for capstone courses and will work closely with other professors assigned to this course to scaffold the alignment of rubrics and understanding of how this assignment is evaluated against PLO6. The focus will be consistent alignment of rubrics throughout the cohorts. A mandatory student consultation or workshop with the Program Director for Professional Philosophy will be added to the first seven weeks of the capstone course. Additional writing support will be encouraged by faculty for those students scoring low on writing competencies. Referrals will continue to be made to the GPS Writing Center as well as the Brainfuse tool on Canvas.

Definition: Written communication is the development and expression of ideas in writing. Written communication involves learning to work in many genres and styles. It can involve working with many different writing technologies, and mixing texts, data, and images. Written communication abilities develop through iterative experiences across the curriculum.

Evaluators are encouraged to assign a zero to any work sample or collection of work that does not meet benchmark (cell one) level performance.
