GENERAL EDUCATION & CORE COMPETENCIES 2019-2020

Learning Outcome:

GELO 1a & Core Competency Written: Students will be able to effectively express ideas and information to others through written communication.

Outcome Measure:

ETS Proficiency Profile Exam

Criteria for Success (how do you judge if the students have met your standards):

65% of the students will be marginal or proficient at Level 2 Writing.

Aligned with DQP Learning Areas (circle one or more but not all five):

1. Specialized Knowledge
2. Broad Integrative Knowledge
3. Intellectual Skills/Core Competencies
4. Applied and Collaborative Learning, and
5. Civic and Global Learning

Longitudinal Data:

	Percentage of Students Marginal or Proficient
	SP17	FA17	SP18	FA18	SP19	FA19	SP20
	N=36	N=11	N=19	N=13	N=0	N=18	N=13
ETS Proficiency Profile Level 2 Writing	75%	36.40%	57.90%	69.20%	0%	50%	15.4%

Conclusions Drawn from Data:

Students in the Spring 2020 cohorts did not meet the criteria for success for this Learning Outcome. The results showed that the 13 students who completed the ETS Proficiency Exam scored an average of 15.4% for the Level 2 Writing portion of the test. The low score may be due to the impact of COVID-19 that caused a disruption in the learning of these students. The switch being fully remote impacted one of the cohorts, and family and work obligations complicated the achievements of both cohorts.

Changes to be Made Based on Data:

Based on this data, additional framing for why this exam is important to complete will be communicated to students. There will be more of an emphasis to set aside 40 minutes of class time in Week 6 or 7 in the hybrid version of the course to encourage participation in the test. In the online version, the professor will send out regular emails and announcements leading up to Week 6 or 7 to increase participation. Students will be given additional information about the ETS Proficiency test prior to taking it in order to relieve anxiety that could impact test results.

Learning Outcome:

GELO 1b & Core Competency Oral Communication: Students will be able to effectively express ideas and information to others through oral communication.

Outcome Measure:

MRD 3020 Capstone / Research & Planning

The course provides students with an opportunity to showcase the result(s) of their final research project through a final presentation. The presentation is about 10-15 minutes, and includes the following: explaining the purpose for the research, the hypothesis and research questions examined, problem statement, possible solutions, and discussion of implications for the research.

Criteria for Success (how do you judge if the students have met your standards):

70% of students will score at or above an average of 80% or above on the rubric.

Aligned with DQP Learning Areas (circle one or more but not all five):

Group Project Training Presentation

Imagine that your student group is a team of consultants that have been hired to create an hour-long seminar/presentation/training to be shared with the employees (the rest of the class) to help educate them on how to be more inclusive and how to use CQ in the workplace while increasing the employees' overall understanding of the importance of a diverse and inclusive workforce. Your audience includes a full range of employees from HR directors and department managers, to the front line workers throughout your organization.

Choose one of the following scenarios as the starting point for your presentation:

- Gender Bias Lawsuit at Wal-Mart
- What Businesses Can Learn From Starbucks' Response To Racism In One Of Its Stores and Could Starbucks Bias Training Affect How Businesses Handle Racism? (Your group is sent in to train leadership and employees on implicit bias and the implications of racial profiling.)
- Religious Bias at Work: How you Pray is Not Your Employer's Business and Bias Unveiled. Your group is sent in to train leadership and employees on how to create an accommodating and welcoming environment for patients and employees of all religions.)

Your group is to prepare a one-hour seminar/presentation/training session via GoogleSlides/PowerPoint combining your individually collected data, as well as research and information contributed by the team. Since this a training session, including in-class activities, discussions, or handouts to enhance the training and make a lasting impression on the learners. Groups will divide the presentation up as equally as possible among group members and incorporate smooth transitions between presenters. Remember to use images and graphics to support each of your slides. Reviewing and editing your teammates' work will help ensure a high quality cohesive final product that feels like one voice.

AND

Cultural Intelligence (CQ) Reflection Paper

For this final week, you are to write a reflective essay based on the Leading with Cultural Intelligence text -- focusing on your reaction to the CQ Cycle and how you plan to apply the concepts from the text to your work- and real-life.

Consider the topics that we covered each week. Did you find some of the concepts new or difficult to process? Were there any new ideas along the way that you have added to your leadership toolbox for future use? Could you make an immediate, practical application with the subject matter? Do you feel empowered to exhibit a healthy CQ in the workplace? Can you train others to show consistent integrity in cultural leadership? It might help to review some of our weekly topics:

- Introduction: What is Cultural Intelligence? (include the organizational environment you are using as a point of reference)
- CQ Knowledge
- CQ Drive
- CQ Strategy
- CQ Action
- Conclusion (include the recursive nature of the cycle and how the quadrants feed into each other)

As you think back over the course, write a 2-3 page reflection using APA formatting. Be sure to cite all references, including those from the texts, videos, or other sources provided in class. Demonstrate college-level writing with an introduction, body, and conclusion clearly presented in your essay.

Criteria for Success (how do you judge if the students have met your standards):

70% of students will score at or above an average of 80% or above on the rubrics.

Aligned with DQP Learning Areas (circle one or more but not all five):
