Course Reading – Required Texts

- John Merriman (2010), A History of Modern Europe, Vol. 1: From the Renaissance to the Age of Napoleon, 3rd ed. (Norton)
- Isaac Kramnick, ed. (1995), The Portable Enlightenment Reader (Penguin)

Course Objectives

This course will cover the “early modern” period, roughly 1450 to 1789. The importance of this period is so vast that it will have to come out during the course and cannot be squeezed into a couple paragraphs in the “course objectives” section. Our primary objective will be to become familiar with the important and transformative events, persons, and ideas of this period and discuss why they matter.

The course will be structured around the idea that the driving forces of the period are ideas and shocks. Ideas emerge from and modify the way people look at their world. They create the framework in which life is lived, new concepts are understood, and values are embraced or rejected. Thus, we can better understand the period by examining the ideas its people espoused. By “shocks” we mean the unexpected events or changes that compelled individuals and societies to renegotiate their place in the world.

Another idea we want to explore is the interrelationship between those areas of study commonly called the Humanities. Art, music, literature, history, and philosophy are all reflections of the society’s beliefs, values, interests, and circumstances (and vice versa). We can best understand a people by examining all of these facets of what makes us human. And, because we all share humanity, we can better understand ourselves.

Course Learning Outcomes

- Students will be able to explain some of the major intellectual movements of the early modern period, including the Renaissance, Reformations, Scientific Revolution, and Enlightenment.
- Students will be able to analyze the impact of these movements on arts, music, literature, historiography, philosophy, and religion (and vice versa).
- Students will be able to apply course materials to better understand their own beliefs, values, and interests and those of the “modern” world.

Course Grading

The following is the breakdown of how the final grade will be determined:

20%	Exam #1
20%	Exam #2
25%	Final Exam
15%	Quizzes/Assignments
10%	Weekly Reflections
10%	Attendance and Participation

The final exam will cover material from the third part of the course and will also be cumulative.

Make-ups

NO MAKE-UP EXAMS OR QUIZZES WILL BE ALLOWED WITHOUT A UNIVERSITY-APPROVED EXCUSED ABSENCE OR DOCTOR'S WRITTEN PERMISSION. Any student receiving a university-approved excused absence should contact the professor BEFORE the absence to arrange a time to make-up the missed exam.

Attendance and Participation

Participation will be 5% of your total grade. There aren't a lot of people in class, so no one can hide in the crowd. Participation is not measured in quantity but in quality. The student who talks all the time, but doesn't add very much to the discussion, will fare no better than the student who says nothing. Good participation means being prepared for class, demonstrating it, and joining in on class discussions.

Attendance will be 5% of your total grade. Of the 41 total class sessions:

If you miss	0-1 classes	= you get the full 5%
	2-3	= 4%
	4	= 3%
	5	= 2%
	6	= 1%
	7	= 0%
	8 or more	= you will be dropped

In terms of tardiness: don't be tardy. Class is only 65 minutes long, so there is no time for tardiness. If it starts to be a problem for someone, I'll have a one-on-one with that person and tardies will start to be counted as absences. 8:30 am is definitely early, but it's not crazy early.

One more note on attendance: You never know when some new idea is going to strike you and fundamentally and deeply change the way you think about the world. So, take advantage of every opportunity that you have and immerse yourself in learning – even when you'd rather be asleep in your bed.

Assignments

Periodically over the course of the semester there will be assignments given to help you get more out of the readings or to help prompt class discussion. Unless otherwise instructed, they will be turned in on Canvas before the following class session. You will also be asked to experience one music concert over the course of the semester. Dr. Keith Pedersen will provide more details on available concerts.

Quizzes

Quizzes can cover material from the readings for the day, readings for the previous lecture, and content from the previous lecture. They will be given at the start of the class session and turned in before the discussion for that day begins. Students can be best prepared for quizzes by (1) keeping up with the reading for each lecture, (2) reviewing class notes from the previous lecture before class, (3) attending class regularly, and (4) being on time to class (since quizzes are at the start of class).

Weekly Reflections

Every Monday, each student will turn in a 1-1 ½ page reflection (typed and single-spaced) on the collateral reading for the previous week. Collateral reading means all of the readings that are not from the Merriman textbook. The reflection must be turned in on Canvas before class on Monday. No late reflections will be accepted. You get one freebie over the semester, meaning you can skip turning in a reflection with no penalty – but use your freebie wisely.

The reflection should include (1) what was the main argument(s) of the reading and (2) your reactions to the things that you learned about in these readings. Ask yourself if there was anything you had a strong reaction to (such as “I was fascinated with...”, “This really ticked me off...”, etc.), if there were things you disagreed with, and/or if there were things that you’d be interested in finding more information about. One of the goals of these reflections is to be able to look back over the course of the semester and see if you can better identify what it is in the world that YOU really care about. So, think about the reflections less as an assignment for the prof to read, and more as being a way to get a better idea of who you are and who you want to become.

Final Examination Policy

Successful completion of this class requires taking the final examination on its scheduled day. No requests for early examinations or alternative days will be approved.

PLNU Copyright Policy

Point Loma Nazarene University, as a non-profit educational institution, is entitled by law to use materials protected by the US Copyright Act for classroom education. Any use of those materials outside the class may violate the law.

PLNU Academic Honesty Policy

Students should demonstrate academic honesty by doing original work and by giving appropriate credit to the ideas of others. Academic dishonesty is the act of presenting information, ideas, and/or concepts as one’s own when in reality they are the results of another person’s creativity and effort. A faculty member who believes a situation involving academic dishonesty has been detected may assign a failing grade for that assignment or examination, or, depending on the seriousness of the offense, for the course. Faculty should follow and students may appeal using the procedure in the University Catalog. See Academic Policies for definitions of academic dishonesty and for further policy information.

PLNU Academic Accommodations Policy

If you have a diagnosed disability, please contact PLNU's Disability Resource Center (DRC) within the first two weeks of class to demonstrate need and to register for accommodation by phone at 619-849-2486 or by e-mail at DRC@pointloma.edu. See Disability Resource Center for additional information.

PLNU Attendance and Participation Policy

Regular and punctual attendance at all classes is considered essential to optimum academic achievement. If the student is absent from more than 10 percent of class meetings, the faculty member can file a written report which may result in de-enrollment. If the absences exceed 20 percent, the student may be de-enrolled without notice until the university drop date or, after that date, receive the appropriate grade for their work and participation. See Academic Policies in the Undergraduate Academic Catalog.

PLNU Mission To Teach – To Shape – To Send

Being of Wesleyan heritage, we strive to be a learning community where grace is foundational, truth is pursued, and holiness is a way of life.

COURSE ZOOM ETIQUETTE

- Have both Zoom and Canvas open and available during our sessions.
 - You can do a split screen on your computer or use multiple devices.
 - During some classes we will use links on Canvas and will do online work.
- Take notes in whatever way is most helpful to you – but definitely take notes
 - Having a notebook next to you to jot down ideas and questions is helpful for when we discuss together!
 - Your brain better remembers things you physically write down.
- Set up a quiet, distraction-free environment before you log on.
 - This might be challenging, but do your best! Treat our Zoom meeting in the same way you would if you were sitting in class.
 - Come up with a little ritual that let's your brain know you're starting class (and ending it)
- Avoid multitasking.
 - Please do not text or email or do other online work during our time together.
- Keep your audio on mute until you want to speak.
- Enable your video so that we can see you and connect with you.
 - There are times when you may need to disable video (for instance, in order to minimize the activity on your internet connection or if there is a lot of activity going on in your video) – but try to make your “default” having the video on so we can be present together
- Answer questions or provide comments in the chat feature when it is appropriate.
 - On the bottom of the Zoom window, click on “Participants” and “Chat.” Two pop-up windows will open on the right side of your screen.
 - I will probably not follow Chat during class (too many things going on).
- Be respectful of whoever is speaking, whether a prof or fellow student.
- Please speak up and let your ideas be heard!
 - Be sure to unmute yourself to talk.
 - If I don't see your hand raised, please feel free to unmute your mic and say “Hey Rosco” (or whoever is teaching that day)
